PETBUDDY GROUP

(Internship & Freelance)

An autonomous role, focused on creative thinking, self-empowerment and collaboration between different departments.

During my time at PetBuddy Groups, I served as both their lead designer and freelance designer. I was responsible for creating artwork for various products, such as digital ads, print materials, and more.

By becoming part of the team, I contributed to developing ideas and also drove my own projects forward. My role involved not only producing design materials but also actively participating in the creative process and working closely with other team members to ensure that our projects achieved their goals.

HEMKÖP AB – TÄBY, MÖRBY, JÖNKÖPING

A collaborative position emphasizing maintaining a successful workflow, following routines, achieving shared objectives, and self-management.

My career at Hemköp started as a cashier, and when I left, I essentially only had the role of store manager left. During my years at Hemköp, I gained a deep appreciation for effective collaboration through my daily engagement with various departments and colleagues. I was responsible for my own departments and served as support to other department managers to ensure the daily operations of the store.

I set budgets, made purchases, and directed my own learning, which resulted in increased responsibility and trust from my managers. Additionally, I acted as the on-call manager, where I single-handedly managed the evening staff, ensured the store maintained high standards, and handled customer-related issues.
